

Aquaculture Awards 2019

Call for Entries

An opportunity to celebrate the achievements of the sector and give due recognition to those making an exceptional contribution.

2019 Aquaculture Awards

The Aquaculture Awards are organised by 5m Publishing and are supported by a number of commercial sponsors.

Categories are free to enter and open to everyone involved in the global aquaculture industry, no matter how large or small.

If you:

- Employ the highest standards of aquaculture husbandry
- Farm with a high level of environmental awareness
- Deliver a high-quality end product to local, national or international markets

Then we want to hear from you. Enter now at www.aquacultureawards.com

Applied Research Breakthrough

Sponsored by Lloyd's Register

Open to any research project involving collaboration between the industry and academic sectors. The winner will be the project that is most likely to have an impact on the industry and has already demonstrated some tangible measures of success.

Sustainability

Sponsored by Cargill

Will be presented to the organisation that is able to demonstrate the consistency of its contribution to the environmental, ethical and economic sustainability of the industry. All entrants will need to highlight ways they are addressing each of the three E's.

International Impact

Sponsored by BioMar

An award set to promote companies and/or new initiatives with a truly international impact. Projects that promote cross-industry collaboration and/or make their results freely available for the greater good of the sector will be viewed particularly favourably.

People's Choice

Sponsorship Available

Individuals are invited to nominate a person from within the sector whose attitude and achievements in the last 12 months have been particularly inspirational. The public will be able to vote for anyone from the shortlist, which will be drawn up by the judging panel based on the best of the nominations received.

Most Promising New Entrant

Sponsored by Primer Design

Nominations sought for people, companies or products that have arrived on the aquaculture scene since January 2018.

Animal Welfare Award

Sponsored by Benchmark

Any initiative that has improved the welfare of the farmed animals and/or the wildlife they interact with since January 2018. Initiatives can cover a range of factors, including genetic, pharmaceutical and technological innovations, or improvements in husbandry and farm management protocols.

Technical Innovation

Sponsored by MOWI

An award for the developer of novel hardware or software that has, or is projected to, improve the performance of any aquaculture sector.

Diversity

Sponsored by Scottish Aquaculture Innovation Centre

The employer that has done the most to promote diversity in their workforce and/or the sector in general since January 2018.

How to enter

To submit an entry

Please complete an entry form explaining why you should win, keeping your entries brief – no more than 800 words. You should complete an entry form for each category and state clearly which category you are entering. If you wish, you may provide material in support of your entry, photographs, tables, graphs, presentations, brochures and certificates.

Multiple entries are welcomed, and an entry topic may be submitted for more than one category if considered appropriate.

This form is used when submitting an entry to the following categories:

- Applied Research Breakthrough
- Sustainability
- International Impact
- Animal Welfare Award
- Technical Innovation
- Diversity

To nominate

To make a nomination, please complete the nomination form with the full details of the person or company you are nominating along with a statement of 500 words to support your nomination. Please make sure you submit your full contact details, along with those of your nominated person or company.

This form is to be used when entering in to the following categories:

- People's Choice
- Most Promising New Entrant

Completed entries must be received by Friday, 1 March 2019.

If you have any questions about completing the form or require any further advice, please call Susan within the Event Team on 07721 495417 or email susan.tinch@aquacultureuk.com
